Ratepayers to meet Mayor

BY WALDIE VOLSCHENK
RUSTENBURG - The Rustenburg Ratepayers Association is definitely making inroads on issues concerning Rustenburg taxpayers - issues which have been bothering law-abiding citizens of the Platinum City for quite a number of years.
 Since its revival late last year and its first two public meetings, respectively in January and April this year, the Rustenburg Ratepayers Association has managed to bring about more than just a flicker of hope that the affairs of taxpayers in this city will be afforded the necessary attention and commitment of the relevant authorities.

Following a high-profile meeting with the Municipal Manager of the Rustenburg Municipality, Mr Andries Boshoff, in March this year, the Ratepayers has taken another important step forward in clinching a meeting with Rustenburg new Executive Mayor, Ms Jeanette Dibetso-Nyathi - a meeting which was confirmed that the Rustenburg Taxpayers Association is recognised and respected by local authorities, but furthermore that the organisation could be trusted with the affairs of taxpayers in Rustenburg and that the leadership has the vision and commitment to take the interests of Rustenburg Ratepayers to a higher level.

Issues that we hope to discuss with Ms Jeanette Dibetso-Nyathi include some that are viewed as long outstanding by a substantial burg Herald on Monday.

Mr Johan Schoeman, Chairman of the Ratepayers Association said that portfolio committee members of the association will have the first opportunity of coming to terms with the outcome of the meeting with the Executive Mayor on Wednesday. The next meeting of the Rustenburg Ratepayers will be a meeting for portfolio committee members only on Tuesday, 4 May, Mr Johan Schoeman concluded.
